Introducing our new Shariah-compliant equity fund that aims to capture Indonesia's vast growth potential

Strong economic fundamentals

Indonesia is an emerging global powerhouse in Asia, offering a wide range of investment opportunities to investors.

Its solid macroeconomic fundamentals – exemplified by a stable rupiah and sovereign rating upgrades – coupled with well-managed fiscal and monetary policies inspired strong investors' confidence.

Favourable demographics

As of mid-2020, more than 270 million² people call Indonesia home, making it the most populous country in Southeast Asia³ and the most populous Muslim country in the world³. Indonesia also has a young population, with a median age of 29.7 years⁴.

The populous and young demographics provide the country with a huge domestic consumer market, a ready labour market and strong productivity to propel the country's growth.

The new Manulife Shariah Indonesia Equity Fund ("the Fund") provides you with direct access to Shariah-compliant investments in wonderful Indonesia.

Strong economic fundamentals, favourable demographics, abundance of natural resources and supportive government policies to improve investment climate are some of the reasons to consider diversifying your investments into this multicultural and vibrant market.

Abundance of natural resources

Indonesia is endowed with rich natural resources such as natural gas, crude petroleum, coal, nickel, bauxite and copper⁵. It is also the world's top palm oil producer⁶.

Indonesia benefits from its position as a major commodity exporter against a backdrop of surging commodity prices in recent months. This contributed tremendously to its rapid economic recovery post-pandemic and should continue to fuel economic growth moving forward.

It is also a beneficiary of the global shift from fossil fuel to renewable energy, with its vast mineral resources being key in the renewable energy supply chain.

Improving investment climate

The Indonesian government has formulated policies to spur structural reform of the country's manufacturing and trades, while simultaneously improving the overall investment climate. We believe this will lead to sustained and rising foreign direct investment flows in years to come.

Examples of these include policies to develop its downstream natural resources in order to stimulate value-added exports¹⁰, plans to develop an integrated electric vehicle industry ecosystem¹⁰ and plans to construct the world's largest green industrial park in North Kalimantan¹¹.

Why invest in Shariah global REITs?

Dividend income as an important source of long-term total returns for REITs

- REITs offer attractive yields relative to other yield-oriented securities.
- REITs can potentially provide income growth over time.
- Dividend income is an important source of total returns over the long-term.

Income and capital appreciation can provide strong total returns

- For over 20 years Global REITs have significantly outperformed the broad market through multiple market environments.
- REITs perform well in various interest rate environments and may act as a hedge to inflation.

Source: Morningstar Direct, as of 31 December 2022. Past performance does not guarantee future results. For illustrative purposes only.

Gross total return indexes reinvest as much as possible of a company's dividend distributions. The reinvested amount is equal to the total dividend amount distributed to persons residing in the country of the dividend paying company. Gross total return indexes do not, however, include any tax credits.

Global REIT is used to illustrate long-term performance as Shariah Global REIT does not have a long enough performance track record.

Strong balance sheets and quality assets enable Shariah REITs to outperform

- Since inception of the Index, Shariah Global REITs have outperformed Global REITs.

Portfolio diversification

Low correlations with other asset classes provide diversification to an overall portfolio.

Exposure to global emerging trends supports long-term growth trajectory

Trends	REIT exposure
New economies	Increased demand for specialised and industrial REITs. Data centers, telecommunication cell towers, logistic and warehouse REITs.
World's aging population	Growth in healthcare REITs such as medical centers and retirement homes.
Moderating/inflation economic growth	Residential, industrial, healthcare and tower REITs.
